Question 1:

Is the RESIDENCE CERTIFICATE referring to a legal or natural person? Does it apply to an external or local expert?

The answer 1:

Residence Certificate can be obtained for both natural person and legal entity. This document is necessary for the Regional Economic Development Agency for Sumadija and Pomoravlje at the moment of realization of payments abroad (regardless of whether it is payment to a natural person or legal entity) in order to regulate its own tax obligations.

In the case when the Bidder is a legal entity from abroad, with its expert team, it delivers its Residency Certificate, regardless of whether the experts are local or external. In this case, Residence Certificates are not required for the experts as natural persons, as all future payments as well as potential contracting will be with the legal entity.
